

Silver Class Space Week – May 2018

The children enjoyed making their very own moon sand: a mixture of baby oil, plain flour and powder paint. A very messy activity but very fun!

We changed the role play area into Silver Class Space Station. The children looked for planets, walked like astronauts and zoomed off into space.

Gravity – the children found it fascinating to write and draw like an astronaut, upside down under the table.

5, 4, 3, 2, 1, Blast off. After making our very own rockets to blast off into space, every child was given the opportunity to launch the rockets.

Silver Class enjoyed going on to the school field with their moon rocks and pretending to be in space.
